

The world's leader in the fight against ovarian cancer

OCRA
ovarian cancer
research alliance

OCRA has invested $110 million in ovarian cancer research, more than any other charity in the world. Our grants to top scientists around the globe are crucial in jumpstarting careers and cementing commitment to the field.

Unlike government funding, which typically goes to tried and true projects, OCRA grants allow investigators to pursue novel ideas—bold, disruptive research that leads to breakthroughs.

Join us as we drive innovation and invest in science that saves lives.

OCRA scientists are making strides in a wide range of fields.

BIOLOGY
epigenetics, genomics

EARLY DETECTION/DIAGNOSIS/PROGNOSIS
